What is NJCounts 2018?

NJCounts 2018 is the annual statewide Point-in-Time count of individuals and families experiencing homelessness or at risk of homelessness in the New Jersey.

When is NJCounts 2018 taking place?

On January 24, 2018, volunteers will ask homeless shelter residents and those in unsheltered locations where they spent the night of January 23, 2018.

Why is NJCounts 2018 taking place?

The U.S. Dept. of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) mandates that local communities conduct a sheltered count each year and additionally, an unsheltered count every other year.

The year 2018 is not a mandated unsheltered count year but for planning purposes, HUD strongly encourages communities to conduct an unsheltered count to track year by year changes. In an unsheltered count, volunteers survey homeless individuals and families living on the street, in cars, under bridges and in any other places not meant for human habitation.

New Jersey and local Continuums of Care (CoC) employ the annual count to obtain consistent data about the number of individuals and families experiencing homelessness and to better understand the causes of homelessness and their service and housing needs. NJCounts 2018 is designed to understand the nature of New Jersey's homeless population so that limited housing and services resources can most appropriately meet its needs.
